BERLIN

- Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe - The Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe is only briefly called Holocaust Memorial by most Berliners. Opened in May 2005, the memorial in Berlin-Mitte is located near the Brandenburg Gate and is one of the city's most impressive sights. The Holocaust Memorial consists of an undulating field of 2711 concrete stelae, which can be passed through from all sides. While walking between the columns of different heights and the labyrinthine corridors, visitors may experience a brief moment of disorientation, which should open up space for discussion. Beneath the memorial is the Information Centre, which documents the crimes of the Nazi era in themed rooms.
- Checkpoint Charlie - Checkpoint Charlie was the setting for many thrillers and spy novels, from James Bond in Octopussy to The Spy Who Came In From The Cold. Located on the corner of Friedrichstraße and Zimmerstraße, it is a reminder of the former border crossing, the Cold War, and the partition of Berlin. The barrier and checkpoint booth, the flag, and the sandbags are all based on the original site – and are a popular subject for photos.
- Berlin Wall - Berlin was a divided city for nearly thirty years – a city with a wall running through its very heart. From 13 August 1961 until 9 November 1989, the Berlin Wall divided the city into East and West Berlin. Today, all across the city you can find traces of the Wall, its remains and memorial sites – the East Side Gallery, the Berlin Wall Memorial in Bernauer Strasse, the Berlin-Hohenschönhausen Memorial, a former Stasi remand prison, and the green Mauerpark. The route of the Berlin Wall is even marked along some of Berlin's streets by a double row of cobblestones.

DRESDEN

- Brühl's Terrace - This panoramic terrace is connected with the cathedral by a monumental staircase. It boasts an interesting view over the Elbe and the impressive buildings of the Neustadt district on the opposite bank, including the imposing neo-Classical façade of the Saxon State Ministry of Finance (1883). A permanent easel on the terrace frames one of Canaletto's famous landscapes of the city.

NUREMBERG

- Nuremberg Main Market - The Main Market Square has been the center of activity and commerce in Nuremberg since ancient times. The celebrated marketplace runs Monday through Saturday. Visitors and locals love to shop the plentiful fruits and vegetables, fresh bread, treats, ready-to-eat meals, and fresh flowers.
- Schöner Brunnen - The Schöner Brunnen, is a German fountain which translates to Beautiful fountain. This stunning fountain is located in the main marketplace of Nuremberg, and was created by stonemason Heinrich Beheim. The original fountain was believed to be built between 1385 and 1396. The first restoration of the fountain took place in 1822-1824, conducted by sculptor Jacob Daniel Burgschmiet. The Beautiful Fountain was replaced with a replica in 1912, and parts of the original were moved into the Germanisches National Museum in the 20th century.

ROTHENBURG

- St. James Church - St. James is a Lutheran (originally Catholic) church in Rothenburg ob der Tauber, Germany, which serves as a church on the pilgrimage route to St. James Church in Santiago de Compostela, Spain. It has two towers (south tower: 55.2 m, 57.7 m north tower).

REGENSBURG

- Old Stone Bridge - The Stone Bridge in Regensburg, Germany, is a 12th-century bridge across the Danube linking the Old Town with Stadtamhof. For more than 800 years, until the 1930s, it was the city's only bridge across the river. It is a masterwork of medieval construction and an emblem of the city.

MUNICH

- Olympic Stadium - Olympiastadion is a stadium located in Munich, Germany. Situated at the heart of the Olympiapark München in northern Munich, the stadium was built as the main venue for the 1972 Summer Olympics. With an original capacity of 80,000, the stadium also hosted many major football matches including the 1974 FIFA World Cup Final and the UEFA Euro 1988 Final. It hosted the European Cup Finals in 1979, 1993 and 1997. Its current capacity is 69,250.

SCHWANGAU

- Neuschwanstein Castle - Neuschwanstein was built for the Bavarian king Ludwig II (1845 - 1886); it was begun in 1868 but never fully completed. The king saw his castle as a monument to the culture and concept of monarchy prevailing in the Middle Ages, which he greatly admired and wanted to recreate. Built and furnished in medieval styles but equipped with the latest technology of the day, it is the most famous historicist building in the world.
